Welcome! Here's a quick introduction...

This is the administrative dashboard, but there won't be much to see until a worker is imported. To get familiarized with the worker's experience, as well as generate data to see in the dashboard, enter your email below to receive an enrollment email.

To test the worker experience, enter your personal email

Send enrollment email

You'll need to use an email other than the one you used to create the administrative account.

5. If an account has administrator rights, select Invite an admin.
- Enter their email address with their permissions and click Send invitation.
